The Democratic Band Wagon
Traverses North Christian.Two Thousand and Five Hundred
People Hear Music and Oratory
Up To Wednesday Night.Crofton, Ky., Oct. 25.—The Democratic band wagon has split northeast Christian county wide open, traveling fifty miles in less than 60 hours and leaving behind it a trail of enthusiasm that will mean many votes for the ticket in November.The crowds everywhere have been large and enthusiastic and after the first half day the weather has been perfect.Monday morning the prospect was dreary enough. A steady rain was falling and there was a most discouraging outlook for a whirlwind tour over the hills and hollows of north Christian.The band boys at Lafayette were true blue and telephoned at seven that they were coming rain or shine.
The committeemen on the route,
Lee King at Dogwood, Dave Smith
at Fruit Hill and Foster McCown
at Bluff Spring, also telephoned that it would take a Galveston flood to dampen the order of the Democrats of their respective districts and that the band wagon must come rain or no rain.The band did not arrive until eleven o'clock and it was nearly one before everything could be made ready for the State. Col. W.
R. Howell and Ben C. Boyd were sent ahead, before noon, to cancel the appointment at Dogwood and hold the crowd at Fruit Hill.The band in the two light wagon-ettes, and followed by the commissary department in a road wagon, engineered by Geo. Green, Jr., made the trip over a very muddy road to Dogwood, eight miles, in two hours.
Here a stop of ten minutes was made. The crowd had been dismissed, but about 50 people still remained. These were given a couple of tunes and after a brief explanation by Mr. Meacham of the change in the program, a forced trip was made four miles further to Fruit Hill. Here Col. Howell was just concluding an hour's speech to a crowd of 150 people. Mr. Meacham followed with a ten minutes speech and after music and a good rest, the journey to Bluff Springs, 5 miles further, was resumed. This point was reached at 6 o'clock and the party of 20 men had just enough time to pitch camp, eat super and feed the horses before dark.
The people had already begun to arrive and by 6:30 o'clock 300 persons were on hand and after the band had played for half an hour
the speaking began. Judge Theo.
P. Cook and Ashby Edmunds spoke down for the night meeting and
A. Wilgus and J. C. Duffy arrived from Hopkinsville, and became permanent members of the party.
Judge Cook led off with an hour's speech. Col. Howell followed with a 30 minutes "hot number," and then came Meacham and Duffy with short speeches. The meeting broke up at 9:30 and the boys scattered out for the night, closing the first half day with two regular speeches to an aggregate of nearly 500 hearers. The good people of Bluff Springs opened their homes to the campaigners and on Tuesday morning they all come together at the Red Bridge for the second day.
The weather was all that could be desired and the roads were rapidly drying out. Full of hope for the day, the band wagons completed
the long drive of 8 miles to Haley's store over a very rough road by 11 o'clock, arriving only an hour late.
Howell, Boyd, Wilgus and Duffy had been sent on ahead and held the crowd. At the foot of Esq. Geo.
N. Johnson's hill, the worst road on Pond River, a stop was made to rest the horses and standing on a little bridge the boys played a stirring tune that caused a drove of cattle to come bellowing downthe hillside, looking for the strange melody that waked the echoes for the first time in this end of Christian county. Just before Haley's mill was reached, a school at Poplar Grove was passed and the teacher gave recess to allow the children to see the strange procession. A stop was made and the band went in side the yard and played some of its choicest music.
Then leaving a delighted crowd of school children they hurried on down the hill to find 150 people assembled and waiting to be entertained.After some music Mr. Meacham gave the meeting a start and introduced Mr. Duffy for a half hour's talk.This young man is developing into a most pleasing and effective speaker. His speech was followed by another fine speech from Col.
Howell. This was in the Colonel's best vein and made a fine impression.Before breaking up, a club was organized with 57 members, who promised to put in their best licks for the ticket until Nov. 6. Mr. John E. Davis was elected President.
This was one of the best meetings held.A drive of 6 miles was made to Johnson's store by 4 o'clock. Two stops were made, one at Cold Creek to eat dinner and again on the highest hill in the county, where some ladies and children were assembled at a house by the roadside.
Here the band played to the great delight of the little crowd.At Johnson's Store about 50 people were still waiting, though the hour for the speaking was long past.
A short stop was made and after some music Mr. Duffy made a short speech. Here Mr. Jap N. Sisk met the party and took it in charge.
The night meeting was held at No.
5 School house near his house and proved to be the best meeting of the series. A crowd of 400 was on hand and there was a regular feast of oratory. More speakers came out from Hopkinsville and Jno. B.
Brasher, of Hopkins, also was on hand. Mr. T. C. Hanbery, who was last year a Brown Democrat, was the first speaker. He led off in a fine talk that put everybody in a good humor. After him Jno. B.
Brasher, Jas. B. Allensworth and the inimitable Howell all made fine speeches.Tuesday night the party of 22 men and 10 horses were taken care of by Messrs. J. N. Sisk, J. B.
Sharber and L. R. Ray, all within walking distance of the church where the meeting was held. These gentlemen feasted the boys on the fat of the land. In addition to the delightful edibles, the sound dozen at Mr. Sisk's were given a musical concert until after eleven o'clock.
Mr. Sisk is a fine performer on the violin and his three children are members of his family band. Claude plays the guitar, little Mabel the parlor organ and the oldest daughter, Miss Eva is a violinist of great promise. Some of the band boys helped out at times and there was a feast of music that was thoroughly enjoyed by all.Everybody was up and ready to move by 8 o'clock Wednesday morning and the drive of 3 miles to White Plains was made in an hour.
For a mile or more the road ran along Pond river, the county line, and when the party crossed over the bridge into Hopkins they were met by a delegation of horsemen. A mile further another crowd came up and a school with 85 pupils waving flags was lined up by the road with their teachers, Misses Ray and Teague, at the head. Here the horsemen were increased to near 100 and a parade a half mile long entered the town and a photographer stopped the procession long enough to take a picture of the band and school children at the head of it. Then the march was continued to the grove surrounding the church where the seats had been taken out under the trees.
Here 500 people quickly gathered and the meeting was touched off at 9:30, promptly on time. Mr. Duffy spoke first and made such a fine speech that a lady in the audience presented him with a bouquet.
Then Mr. Howell was introduced and the bandwagons left, leaving him to follow in a buggy. This was a grand meeting and John Brasher, Rufus Teague and Dr.

Moore made the visitors feel welcome from the time they crossed the line. Mr. Brasher announced that he would inaugurate a similar campaign at White Plains next Monday afternoon.The drive to Empire was a 10-mile journey, hard and tiresome, but the wagons whirled in ten minutes, only to find that they had been bled for noon instead of 3 o'clock and 250 people had waited until 2 o'clock and some home. After some music, Howell was left at Empire to speak to the miners at 7 o'clock and the rest reached Crofton at 5 o'clock, dusty and tired.Here Jno. M. Dulin, the old reliable wheelhorse, and Will Martin, the local committeeman, took them
in charge having provided entertainment for men and beasts. Several new recruits from Hopkinsville came in by night and the 7:30 meeting was a rouser. Mr. Duffy opened with an hour's speech and it was a tip-top effort, the first speech of that length he had made. By 8:30 Howell came in from Empire and put in some of his best licks. The two meetings were great successes and the attendance brought the total for three days up to about 3,000. The canvass of the eastern side of the railroad wound up here in a blaze of glory and a flood ofmelody and oratory. The band boys are having a great time. Newton Roper, one of the cornelists, had to return home from Haley's Mill, but there are still eleven fine fellows making the round. Fred Gilbert and Will Mitchell are from Hopkinsville and the others are from Lafayette. E. J. Roper is leader.Mr. J. M. Dulin, who has been the guide and pilot since Monday afternoon will spend the week with the boys and has endeavored himself to every one by his thoughtful attentions. He knows every hog path on Pond river and can ing home Friday night.

Died Of Cancer.

Mr. Smith Hayes, a well known and much respected citizen, died at his home one mile east of the city Monday afternoon, after a long and painful illness, of cancer of the face.The malignant growth made its appearance about five years ago and had eaten away one side of his face. While he had been a constant sufferer he was only confined to his bed a few weeks.Mr. Hayes was about eighty years old and leaves several children.
The funeral was preached at his late residence Tuesday afternoon by Elder H. D. Smith and the interment took place in Hopewell.

OLD COUPLE

Married Themselves to Save the Usual Wedding Fee.

For the third time in the history of the marriage license law of Pennsylvania a "self-marriage" certificate was issued last week. The knot was tied in the presence of the County Clerk and two witnesses. The contracting parties were Andrew J. Taylor, aged 81, and Christina Eikes, aged 69.

It was purely a matter of economy that they dispensed with the services of a minister. The groom appeared in the marriage license office last week and stated his case. He inquired particularly about the fee for performing marriage ceremonies. The Clerk informed him that the legal fee was $5. The old man said that was too much and he would consider the matter a while longer. Later he made his second appearance and informed the Clerk that he had consulted an attorney and learned that he and his intended bride could perform the ceremony by simply declaring themselves married in the presence of two witnesses. In this way it would cost but $1.20, 60 cents for the regular license and 60 cents for the marriage certificate.

The old man performed his part of the ceremony and instructed his bride how to proceed. The certificate reads:

"We hereby certify that on the 18th of October, 1900, we united ourselves in marriage, at Pittsburgh, in the County of Allegheny, having first obtained from the Clerk of the Orphans' Court of said county a declaration that there was no existing legal impediment to our so doing.

(Signed)

A. J. Taylor, Christina Eikes."

"We the undersigned, were present at the solemnization of the marriage of Andrew J. Taylor and Christina Eikes, as set forth in the foregoing certificate.

(Signed)

Mrs. A. C. Dinger, Mary Braden."

The bride signed the mark. She was twice married before Death took both husbands.—Ex.

YOUNG MEN

Should Especially Desire The Crushing of Trusts and Imperialism.

Thousands of young men are going on November 6 to cast their first votes for President. And it is to be hoped that they realize the full extent of their own personal stake in the result.

The present campaign is another pivotal event in our political history. The young men who are shortly going to cast their first Presidential ballots are, whether they are fully conscious of it or not, the voters who will have most cause in the years ahead to look back with thankfulness and regret. It is a parting of the ways for them. Old men are passing off the stage, and the full fruits of the verdict to be rendered at the polls next month will not be gathered in their time. It is to the young men, with their lives all before them and the hard problem of how to realize their hopes and ambitions to solve, that the election of Mr. McKinley or Mr. Bryan is at the gravest moment.

Between the party of imperialism and the trusts and the party of human liberty and equality of rights and opportunities it is for our young men to choose. And as they make their choice they will have to reap the consequences. Those of them who understand the history of their own country and the principles on which their forefathers founded its government cannot fail to see that if they vote to re-elect Mr. McKinley, and thereby ratify his policy in the Philippines and Porto Rico, they will vote to nullify the Constitution and commit the coming generation to a program of conquest, colonization and annexation in quarters of the globe far distant from our own shores. And they are themselves the coming generation.

That policy is not the policy of their fathers; it is the policy which all the greatest men of both parties have one hundred years warned us against adopting. It is a policy utterly alien to the old American spirit. It denies all the teachings of our history. It spurns the counsels of Washington, Jefferson, Clay, Webster and Lincoln, and all of whom adured us to love liberty and justice, to cultivate the friendship of all nations, to give our sympathy to every people struggling to be free and to oppress none, and, above all things, to be content to preserve our own freedom and enlarge its boundaries on soil continuous to our own, and never, under any temptation, permit ourselves to be driven into the affairs of foreign nations.

TO HEAVEN

These Jazzrites Expect to Go Straight From Mountain.

The members of the unique religious sect known as the Jazzrites, of Indiana, are arranging to take passage for Scotland. The prophets of the sect has fixed a near date for the end of time, and the resolution of all terrestrial things. The sect originated in Scotland, and the flight of the faithful will be taken from some mountain there. Small communities of these zealots have been established in Northern Indiana and Southern Michigan counties. The men and the women are disposing of their earthly possessions, and the money accumulated will be expended in reaching Scotland, from whence they believe they are to be transported heavenward.

Gathering Blocks of Ten.

The Republican managers of New York are going five better on "Blocks of Five" Dudley Campaign tactics in Indiana in 1888. The New York managers want blocks of ten as will be seen in the following letter:

My dear sir: Your name has been handed me as a life long Republican whom we can trust. Will you kindly send me the names of ten independent Democrats, voters whom you think may be influenced to favor our ticket on election day?

Also advise us of any expense involved. Yours very truly,

B. B. O'DELL, JR.,

Chairman of Republican State Committee.

Chairman O'Dell denies the letter, but as Senator Murphy of the Democratic Committee says he will prove that such a letter has been sent out by the Republican Committee.

SOME LAZY ANIMALS.

Wash-Absurd Sloth Is a Marvel of Industry Compared to Some Birds and Insects.

A baser life was never penned than that amazing bit of natural history which described the sloth as the laziest animal known. Like the snail, the poor sloth was never cut out for anything better. Even when his worst enemy, the leopard, and jaguar, is bounding him through the green arches of the tropical forest, the wretched sloth cannot add another yard an hour to his speed.

The first duty of any self-respecting bird is surely to build a nest in which to raise its young. Yet look at the number which shirk this necessary proceeding. The kestrel never builds a nest, and the last year's home of a magpie suits Mr. and Mrs. Kestrel to perfection.

The sparrow hawk, too, finds something of the same sort very handy. The house where Mrs. Carrion Crow brought up her last year's brood does well to go on with. Even the lump of mud and mud which has once done duty as a squirrel's nest is not to be despised.

The cuckoo not only presumes on the kindness of other birds to lay her eggs in their nests, but her young, when hatched, cruelly evicts its foster brothers and sisters to perish miserably on the cold earth outside.

The cowbird sparrow, too, has many of the bad habits of the habitual tramp. His nest, when he makes one, is of the most untidy description, and a house wren's nest, and built above it is very much to his taste if he can seize it during the absence of its proper owner.

Some creatures are quick too lay to feed themselves. There is a large variety of the ant, for example, which generations ago, captured smaller ants as slaves. In the course of ages the abiding ants have become so helpless and incapable that if they are not attended they simply perish, not knowing how or where to procure the necessary food.

In some cases, indeed, has this degeneration proceeded, that the very structure of the Amazon ant, as it is called, has slowly altered, till its mandibles have lost their teeth and are mere nippers—deadly weapons indeed, but useless except for purposes of war.

Not only do their slaves feed them, but also carry them on their backs from place to place.

The fishhawk is another creature that prefers its food to be brought to its mouth. It hovers over the gulls as they are fishing, spots one rising with a plump mackerel in its claws, and swoops down like a thunderbolt. The poor gull, scared out of its senses, drops its feast, which the pirate seizes ere it reaches the water, and devours it.

The remora, or sucking fish, takes nothing of a thousand-mile trip fastened tight on the back of a shark or the hull of a ship, and when it feels no more dreams of offering a fare, or even so much as a thank you.

Another small fish with a big Latin name travels in the mouth of the Brazilian catfish.

The little pea crab generally fastens itself upon the mussel or oyster, and lives in comfort on the spoils of his unwilling host. The hermit crab seems to have lost the power of forming a shell of any kind; so he hides his jelly-like form in the recesses of the first old shell he may come across.—Stray Stories.

THE PRODUCTION OF GOLD.

Nearly $100,000,000 Found Since the Discovery of America.

Of the $10,000,000,000 of gold produced in the world since the discovery of America, more than one-half has been found since 1860, and more than one-quarter since 1885, or to put it in other words, one-half of the gold mined in the last 400 years has been produced within 40 years, and one-fourth within 15 years. The treasury bureau of statistics has made some compilations regarding the gold production of the world in view of the temporary suspension of gold mining in South Africa, and its possible effect upon the gold supply of the world. A casual examination of the figures of annual production shows plainly the very rapid increase during the last half of the closing century. From 1493 to 1600, $201,640,000 worth of gold was found, the average annual production being $44,812. From 1601 to 1700, $806,815,000 worth was mined, and from 1701 to 1800, $1,262,805,000. From 1801 to 1860, $2,120,444,000 was produced, the average annual output being $15,745,260. In the decade from 1861 to 1870 the total production was $1,263,015,000. In the next ten years the production was slightly less, being $1,150,814,000, and from 1881 to 1890 there was also a considerable decrease, the amount being $1,060,055,000. From 1891 to 1899, the production increased in a remarkable degree, amounting to no less than $1,867,971,000, the average annual amount being $204,773,555. This makes the total production between 1493-1899, $8,833,039,600.

An examination of the amount of gold produced from the mines of the Transvaal and by those of other countries shows that the gold production of the entire world is more than double that from the Transvaal; the latter mines produced $79,813,952 worth of gold in 1898, while the production in other parts of the world was $205,214,647, making a grand total of $285,028,800.—Scientific American.

ON ONE'S NERVES.

A Mental Condition That Needs a Radical Treatment.

Some of our readers may be familiar with the mental condition which results from having a certain subject or phase of a situation get on one's nerves. You brood so continuously over an infelicity, a grievance, or a resentment that you become exasperated. You not only lose your sense of proportion, but your good temper. That is the one subject which you cannot think of calmly or reason about clearly. Your nervous irritation precludes any mental operation concerning it except that of feeling, and your emotions in regard to it all run one way. We imagine that if the full truth were told in regard to many cases that seem unreasonable and almost desperate, it would come out that a certain situation or person had got on the man's nerves, and, like the Malay, who says that he got hot in his hands," he simply ran amuck. But there are one or two cautions that we regard regarding by all when we observe in ourselves any tendency of this kind. One is to seek to get a true perspective of the situation by getting far enough away from it in imagination or in actual distance to look at things in their proper relations. The other is to take your coolest, hardest-friend into your confidence and talk the matter over with him. The less imaginative and the more matter-of-fact the better, and you will be apt to find his dry, prosaic comment on the situation will give you just the changed point of view that you need.—Boston Watchman.

Parks of Greater New York.

The parks of Greater New York, in the boroughs of Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx, cover 7,364 acres. The two largest parks, situated in Bronx borough, are Pelham Bay park, of 1,736 acres, and Van Cortlandt park, of 1,138 acres. Central Park, Manhattan, has nearly 840 acres; Bronx park, Bronx borough, 661.35 acres; Brooklyn Forest park, town of Jamaica, within the city limits, 535 acres; and Prospect park, in Brooklyn, 516.1-6 acres. The rest of a total of 69 parks are considerably smaller, and 250 acres of Bronx park are to be devoted to a botanical garden.

A Great Force.

We believe it will be found that next to electricity, flattery is the greatest force in the world.—Aitchison Globe.

Seventeen Russian newspapers had trouble with the censor last year, and two of them were entirely suppressed.

SMALLEST MAN IN THE ARMY.

Is Five Feet in Height and Weighs 108 Pounds.

The smallest man in the United States army is stationed at the Columbus post. He is one of the great family of Smith—John Smith by name—and is a member of company G, Seventh regiment.

Private Smith is small in stature, but has a record that a man twice his size might well be proud of. He enlisted in the United States army in April, 1872, as a drummer boy, and this is the reason he is able to claim the distinction of being the smallest soldier in Uncle Sam's service. He is little more than five feet in height, and weighs 108 pounds.

Along in the '80s an order was issued by the war department doing away with "calls" on the drum and substituting the trumpet. This destroyed the usefulness of the drummer boys, and many of them became trumpeters. But Private Smith was anxious to be transferred to the line, and when he made application for the war department, in view of his excellent record, waived the standard of height and weight and assigned him to the company and regiment to which he now belongs. He has a continuous service credit of 28 years, and has been engaged in a number of campaigns. He served with his regiment throughout the Spanish-American war, and never once did his size interfere with his fighting qualities.

At a "fixed bayonet" he is scarcely taller than his piece. He has but 18 months to serve, and it is presumed as is customary he will be promoted to a sergeantcy for retirement.—Ohio State Journal.

GAMBLING IN LONDON.

Done on a Big Scale Early Last Century.

There were in 1724 in London alone 35 well-known gambling houses. Nearly all our most respectable West End clubs were originally gambling houses, as the Cocoa Tree, which is still flourishing as a club at No. 64 St. James' street. One night late in the last century there was a great row, the difference of which was £150,000. That prospect of perfection, "White's," was perhaps the most appalling gambling hell in Europe. "The young men of the age," says Walpole, "lose there £10,000, £15,000, £20,000 in an evening." The play at this club was only for roulette, of £50 each, and generally there was £10,000 in gold on the table. The gamblers began by pulling off their embroidered clothes, and put on frize garments or turned their coats inside out for luck. They put on pieces of linen to save their hair ruffles, and to guard their eyes from the lights and to prevent tumbling their hair, wore high-crowned straw hats with broad brims, and sometimes masks to conceal their emotions. Almack's afterward was known as the Goose Tree club—a rather significant name—and Pitt was one of its most constant frequenters, and there met his adherents. Gibbon was also a member, when the club was still Almack's, which, indeed, was the name of its founder and original proprietor.—Saturday Review.

COSTLY SWORDS.

One Which Is Worth Over a Million Dollars.

Of gorgeous swords which are not so much weapons as settings for precious stones, the most valuable in England is said to be the one presented by the Egyptians to Lord Wolseley, and valued at £2,000; but this sum is comparatively little for a bejeweled sword if the value of the sword brought over to Europe by the late shah of Persia on his first visit—namely, £10,000—can be taken as a standard for what a diamond-hilted weapon ought to cost. Those who can afford to purchase a sword of this sort are somewhat skeptical about the existence of the Aikwar of Bardsley, a gorgeous blade, which is supposed to be worth more than 20 swords of equal beauty and value to the shah's; but it is popularly supposed that the diamonds and rubies and emeralds with which it is thickly incrustured bring up its value to about £220,000, which, at four per cent., represents an income of almost £9,000 a year, and renders the possession of such a sword something more than a mere luxury.—Chambers' Journal.

OUR GLORIOUS COUNTRY.

Have you watched its marvellous growth? If not, The Weekly Enquirer wants to study the strides it has made. The first census of the United States taken in 1790, showed a population of 3,929,214. Since then every succeeding ten years. The result has been as follows:

Year.	Population.	Year.	Population.
1810.....	7,239,881	1860.....	31,443,771
1820.....	12,267,134	1870.....	38,556,379
1830.....	15,905,220	1880.....	50,155,783
1840.....	17,069,653	1890.....	62,622,250
1850.....	23,191,478

Here you see the figures of a basis of calculation. The problem now is: What will be the population of the United States, excluding recent acquisitions. The result is usually announced in July of the census year. The Weekly Enquirer is anxious to engage all in a study of their country. To this end it will distribute cash amounting to $25,000, for solutions received of the population of the United States Census, as follows:

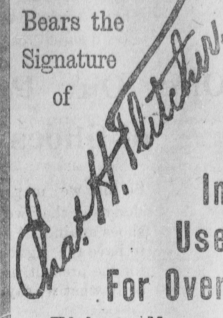

To the nearest correct guess received.....	$3,000.00
To the second.....	1,500.00
To the third.....	750.00
To the fourth.....	500.00
To the fifth.....	250.00

THE "NEXT" DAY

Capital of Kentucky Quiet After Extra Session.

Usual Doxology and Affectionate Good-byes Omitted From the Closing Program.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 23.—The "day after" the close of the extra session finds less than half a dozen members of the General Assembly in Frankfort, and the little Capital City has resumed its usual quiet. The few stragglers are here on personal business or to look after legal matters in the Court of Appeals, and a chance visitor would not think that anything out of the ordinary had been going on here for the past two months.

The final scenes of the extra session were different from those of past sessions of the Assembly. The enactment into a law of the H. use bill on Saturday last resulted in the departure that evening of fully two-thirds of the Democratic members, so that yesterday a bare quorum answered the roll-call in the two houses. What might have been a pleasant parting for these was marred by the wrangle which resulted from the nomination by the Republican members of Mr. Cochran, of Mayville, for the vacant place on the State Election Commission. This made the feeling somewhat bitter between the Democrats and Republicans present. Many of the Democratic members left the joint session disgusted with the action of the leaders on the other side, and when the hour for sine die adjournment arrived there were only eight members of the lower house in the hall. The customary speeches of parting and goodbys were not made in either house and a suggestion that the doxology be sung by the Senate members met with no response.

The failure to elect a Republican State Commissioner after the adoption of a resolution to that effect in both houses is regretted by many of the Democrats here. The State Commission will shortly hold a meeting here, and it is said that two members will agree to elect any other man than Cochran whom the Republican leaders may suggest. Judge James Breathitt, of Christian county, who might have been elected at the second joint session yesterday afternoon had the presence of a quorum been secured, is acceptable to the Democrats, and he will likely be agreed upon.

The work of the extra session, the enactment of an entirely new election law, even to the machinery of it, is generally satisfactory to the rank and file and to many of the leaders on both sides. Of course, there are some objections to provisions of Bill 18, and if they could both sides would modify it to some extent.

The Bill 18 went to the Secretary of State yesterday afternoon before adjournment, but it has not yet been considered by the Governor. He will return here to-night and take it up to-morrow.

Secretary of State Hill has worked day and night since the enactment of the bill 19 into a law to get the ballot paper to the County Clerks of the State. He has heard from all except the remote counties, and in these instances he has sent a double supply, one direct to the Clerk and another to the printing establishment nearest the county seat of the county.

At the close of the extra session there are two active candidates for presiding officer of the next State Senate and three candidates for Speaker of the lower house. The aspirants for the seat of Carter in the upper body are Senator Newton W. Utley, of Lyon county, and Senator R. E. Puryear, of Taylor.

The candidates for Speaker of the House are Gerald T. Finn, of Simpson county; G. Allison Holland, of Henry; and Eli H. Brown, of Nelson.

Three things to delight in, frankness, freedom and beauty.

Three things to wish for, health, friends and a cheerful spirit.

Three things to avoid, idleness, loquacity and flippant jesting.

ADMIRAL SAMPSON

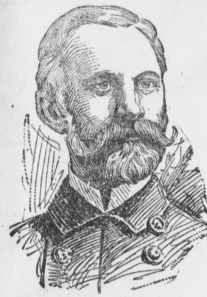

Said to Be Dying of a Broken Heart.

Brooding Over the Thought That His Fellow Countrymen Are Unkind.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 22.—During his present visit to his home in Alabama and wherever he has appeared before the public, Lieutenant Hobson has been quoted as saying that Admiral Sampson is dying of a broken heart owing to the Sampson-Schley controversy, which followed the naval engagement at Santiago. He is quoted as follows:

"When last Saturday, Oct. 13, I saw in the papers that Admiral Sampson was ill I took the next train to Boston and spent Sunday with him. His health is declining. His physicians are baffled at his malady. His organs are right but his health does not improve.

"We touched on one or two subjects. For a little while he could not speak. Soon he had to be carried to his room, and I did not see him again. Mrs. Sampson told me that this great man was brooding, was breaking his heart at the thought that his fellow countrymen were so unkind.

ADMIRAL SAMPSON.

"I said to Mrs. Sampson: 'When I visit my Southland, if the opportunity offers itself, I wish to tell them something of this majestic character.' She replied: 'You dare not. Your Southland was quick and vigorous to resent what was thought to be an attempt to take away the laurels of one of its great men.'

"I came by Washington and saw the Secretary of the Navy and the President. To them I also stated my intention, and they both gave their consent, warning me, however, of what I might expect."

Mr. Hobson, in his speech at a public reception here to-day, said Admiral Sampson had not received special justice at the hands of the American people. He said:

"It has been sought to place him in a despicable light before the world—to make him an incompetent, narrow-minded man and jealous of the fame of his contemporaries, particularly of the illustrious naval chief. As his junior officer serving under him I express the deliberate opinion that Admiral Sampson is the colossal figure of the Spanish-American War—the genius of the naval victory of Santiago.

"He is unmatched to-day as the directing mind of a war squadron on the seas."

A Wise Provision.

It is wisely provided in the constitution that at stated times political power shall return to the hands of the people. The struggle for political supremacy, upon which we are now entering, is of deep moment to the American people. Its supreme importance to all conditions of our countrymen cannot be measured by words. The jills resulting from unjust legislation and from unwise administration of the government must find their remedy in the all-potent ballot. To it we now make our solemn appeal.

The chief purpose of the great convention whose representatives are before me was redress for existing wrongs and security against perils yet greater which menace popular government. Your conduct, in language clear and unmistakable, has presented the

All Women Know

That ordinary treatment fails to relieve painful periods.

They know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will and does and has, more than any other medicine.

Every woman knows about Mrs. Pinkham's medicine.

Every woman knows some woman Mrs. Pinkham has cured.

But nine women out of ten put off getting this reliable remedy until their health is nearly wrecked by experiments or neglect!

Then they write to Mrs. Pinkham and she cures them, but of course it takes longer to do so. Don't delay getting help if you are sick.

She has helped a million women. Why not you?

It is a vital issue upon which the pending contest is to be determined. To its platform I give my earnest assent.—Stevenson accepting nomination.

Roosevelt vs. Roosevelt.

In a speech delivered at Minneapolis July 17, Governor Roosevelt said: "A more wicked absurdity than the Kansas City proposition for dealing with the Philippines was never enunciated by the representatives of a political party."

Here is what the Kansas City platform says:

"We are not opposed to territorial expansion when it takes in desirable territory which can be desired into states in the Union, and whose people are willing and fit to become American citizens.

"We favor expansion by every peaceful and legitimate means. But we are unalterably opposed to seizing or purchasing of distant islands to be governed outside the constitution, and whose people can never become citizens."

In his volume entitled "Life Work of Thomas H. Benton," on page 235, Governor Roosevelt has this to say:

"Not only the Columbia, but also the Red River of the North, and the Saskatchewan and Frazer as well should lie wholly within our limits, less for our own sake than for the sake of the men who dwell along their banks. Columbia, Saskatchewan and Manitoba would be added to the American Union, hold positions incomparably more important, grander and more dignified than they can ever hope to reach either as independent communities or as provincial dependencies of a foreign power that regards them with a kind of tolerance akin to contemptuous indifference. Of course, one would wish to see these or any other settled communities now added to our domain by force; we want no unwilling citizens to enter our Union. The time to have taken the lands was before settlers came into them. European nations war for the possession of thickly settled districts, which if conquered, will for centuries remain alien and hostile to the conquerors. We, wiser in our generation, have seized the limitless forests and never-ending plains and valleys of the great northern rivers, and have thrust our own sons into them to take possession, and a score of years after each conquest we see the conquered land teeming with a people that is one with a people that is one with ourselves."

We thus see Roosevelt the candidate and Roosevelt the author in conflict. In other words, Roosevelt the candidate who condemns the view of Roosevelt the author as a "wicked absurdity."

Scrofula and Cause.

Eczema, catarrh, hip diseases, white swelling, and consumption, have their origin in a scrofulous condition. You need to have pure rich blood and good digestion. With the slightest taint of scrofula in the blood there is weakness. The remedy for this disease is all in the tone of the blood. Scrofula it goes to the root of trouble and expels all impurities and disease germs from the blood.

American Anti-Imperialist League Issues an Address.

Independent Voters Asked to Put Stamp of Condemnation on Republican Policy.

The American Anti-Imperialist League has issued an address to "All independent voters in the United States" asking them to support William Jennings Bryan for President. Among the names attached to the document are those of George S. Boutwell, Boston; D. H. Chamberlain, Massachusetts; former Governor of South Carolina; Joseph S. Fowler, Washington, D. C.; ex-United States Senator; Edwin L. Godkin, New York; William Lloyd Garrison, Boston; Judson Harmon, Cincinnati; ex-Attorney General; Bishop F. D. Huntington, Syracuse, N. Y.; Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Boston; ex-Congressman Henry U. Johnson, of Indiana; William R. Lord, Portland, Ore.; Charles Eliot Norton, Harvard University; Franklin Pierce, New York; Arthur Latham Perry Williams College; Edward M. Sheppard, New York; Moorhead Store, Boston; Edwin F. Uhl, Grand Rapids, Mich.; John J. Valentine, President, Well-Fargo Express Company; United States Senator Geo. L. Wellington, Maryland, and ex-Congressman John DeWitt Warner, New York.

Cause of Apprehension.

The address says:

"We regard with profound apprehension the course of the present Administration in Porto Rico and the Philippines. Our prior acquisitions were of adjacent territory for the extension of the area of constitutional government and the creation of new states for the Union. We made their few inhabitants citizens; our people settled them; we there established the institutions of freedom. For the first time in our history it is now proposed that the President and Congress shall rule vast territories and millions of men outside our constitutional system.

"Officials sworn to support the constitution, and deriving all their powers therefrom, have acquired colonies and assumed arbitrary authority to govern their inhabitants without consent, and to tax them without representation. This policy offers to the people of Porto Rico and the Philippines no hope of independence, no prospect of American citizenship, no representation in the Congress which taxes them. This is the government of men by arbitrary powers; this is imperialism.

Duty of The People.

"We believe that it is the first duty of the American people to stamp with their disapproval doctrines so hostile to liberty and dangerous to constitutional government. If they are to remain free and their Government is to continue representative, their servants must not have or exercise any but constitutional powers. Between the claim of freedom, that all men are entitled to equal political rights, and the dogma of tyranny, that might makes right, there is no middle ground.

"We have not prior to this year supported the candidacy of Mr. Bryan. We don't now concur in certain of his views on minor issues. Yet his position on the supreme issue of the present campaign is so sound, and his advocacy of it is so honest and so courageous, and we now favor his election as the most effective way of showing disapproval of Mr. McKinley's course.

"Without claiming any special political influence we unite for what our example may be worth to our fellow citizens, in this statement of proposed action in the presence of 'A greater danger than we have encountered since the pilgrims landed at Plymouth—the danger that we are to be transformed from a republic, founded on the Declaration of Independence, guided by the counsels of Washington, into a vulgar, common-place empire, founded on physical force.'

"We invite the co operation of all independent voters to avert this great and impending danger."

Cooper once said that "The Spy" was his best-written novel.

Gov. Beckham's reception at Russellville Tuesday was a great surprise to the assassination gang who have been claiming that Logan was a doubtful county.

C. L. Alvard, teller of the First National Bank, is a defaulter to an extent that would do credit to a Republican carpetbagger in Cuba. He has stolen $700,000 out of the bank's surplus of $5,000,000.

Gov. Beckham has affixed his signature to House Bill 18, the new election law, and to several minor resolutions. The new law will go into effect in ninety days.

The Court of Appeals has decided in favor of the Osteopaths and the public generally will approve the decision. The Osteopaths, if they do no good, certainly do no harm by rubbing their patients.

Burke Cockran's meeting in Louisville was an immense affair and the Democrats are now very hopeful of carrying the fifth district. If Louisville goes Democratic the majority in the State will not be less than 60,000.

John Sherman, the venerable Ohio Republican, is dead at a ripe old age. Much of his notoriety was gained and his standing as a statesman impaired by his connection with the "crime of 1873." Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease. It originates in a scrofulous condition of the blood and depends on that condition. It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the vocal organs and disturbs the stomach.

It is always radically and permanently cured by the blood-purifying, alterative and tonic action of Hood's Sarsaparilla

This great medicine has wrought the most wonderful cure of all diseases depending on scrofula or the scrofulous habit.

Hood's Pills are the best cathartic.

The Republicans in the Legislature were offered the privilege of naming a Republican member of the State Election Board to succeed Morton K. Younts, and recommended A. M. J. Cochran, one of the men who tried to hold the office under Fugitive Taylor. The Democrats drew the line at Cochran and the two Democrats on the Board, the Legislature having failed to fill the vacancy, will appoint Judge James Breathitt, or some other respectable Republican.

Grover Cleveland has at last been heard from in the following denial of a rumor: "I am not aware of making any statement that would justify the assertion that I am going to support McKinley." He still refuses to say how he will vote, but another one of his cabinet has come out for Bryan.

The supplemental registration will be held three days of next week and Democrats who are already registered should look closely after those who are not. There are about 60 Democrats in the city who are entitled to register by reason of sickness or absence on the regular day.

Chairman McCreary has given out the following estimate by districts, claiming the state by more than 20,000.

First District	12,000
Second district	6,000
Third districts	900
Fourth district	4,200
Sixth district	5,500
Seventh district	4,300
Eighth district	1,000
Ninth district	800
Tenth district	1,500

Total 36,200
In the Eleventh district, Mr. McCreary says that the Republicans will get a majority of not exceeding 16,000. He gave no figures on the Fifth district, but says he had made a pretty thorough investigation of the conditions existing here, and he thought the Democrats had a good chance to carry the district. On Mr. McCreary's figures, the State will go Democratic by 20,200. Chairman Combs, of the Republican State Committee, is claiming the Fifth district by a majority of 3,000, which, if proved true, would reduce the Democratic State majority to about 17,000.

IS NOT SLANG.

"How?" as a Salutation Pronounced to Be Classic.

"How?" is a common greeting heard often in the far west, particularly at army posts and more especially on the Indian reservations. When it finds its way east we accept it as wild and woolly west slang, but we are wrong: "How?" as a word of salutation is as far from slang as any word in the Anglo-Saxon language, and is likely older than any word in that tongue. It is an Indian word, used by Indians before they knew anything of the speech of white men.

The Century dictionary attributes it to the American Indian, and says: "Perhaps in part an abbreviation of the common English greeting: 'How do you do?'" This is reversing the facts, according to no less an authority than George Catlin, who from 1832 to 1840 lived among the Indians, studying their languages and customs, and who knew the Sioux and Blackfeet before they knew a word of his language. In his "North American Indians" he says: "How?" is an abbreviation of the Sioux "How ke che wa?" and the Blackfeet "How ne tucka?" signifying: "How do you do?" The same words, he says, are also used as an equivalent for our "Good-by," excepting that the Blackfeet use only the one word, "How." Catlin writes of "How" being used by the Indians in certain formal ceremonies of welcome in vogue before they had ever seen white men. Describing such a ceremony in chapter 28 he writes: "One of the three men in front deliberately lit a handsome pipe and brought it to Ha-wan-je-tah to smoke. He took it, and after presenting the stem to the north, to the south, to the east and the west, and then to the sun that was over his head, and pronounced he words: 'How-How-How!' drew a whiff or two of smoke through it."

So "How?" is classic, and not slang. —N. Y. Herald.

A University "Co-ed" Sets Up as Authority on Spelling.

As the orchestra finished the last note of the rag-time melody, the girl in the plush coat touched the girl in the lace bodice on the shoulder. "Excuse me, but would you please let me glance over your programme? I forgot to take one as I came in."

"Beg pardon!" exclaimed the girl in the lace bodice.

"I say would you let me see your programme? I forgot to take one as I came in."

"My which?"

"Your programme."

"Really, you do not call this a programme."

"No?"

"Of course not!"

"Well, what do you call it?"

"A program. P-r-o-g-r-a-m!"

"Indeed! Well, I don't mind telling you that I call it a programme. P-r-o-g-r-a-m-e-e-l!"

"Then your pronunciation is decidedly incorrect. It's a pity how ungrammatical some people are."

"How is that?"

"I say it's a pity how ungrammatical we get at times."

"But there is nothing ungrammatical about it. Read those bold letters on the cover of your programme. Does it read p-r-o-g-r-a-m-e-e? Of course it doesn't!"

"Well, you know the man that printed that may not have the advantage of high enlightenment."

"No, and I suppose he never went to the Chicago university, did he?"

"Just then an usher terminated the controversy rather suddenly."

"Ladies, permit me to say that if you will only adjourn until the fall of the curtain the audience will be able to pay more attention to your interesting discussion." —Chicago Daily News.

A Dangerous Practice.

A foolish practice has resulted in the death at Harley Fold, near Kirkby Stephen, of Mr. William Littlefair, who for many years had taken a prominent part in the public affairs of the district. His death was the result of using a pin to one of his ears. He happened to scratch the drum of his ear with the head of a pin and caused it to bleed. The next day serious symptoms developed in consequence of the internal hemorrhage, and he became delirious. Brain fever supervened, and, despite medical skill, he never recovered consciousness.

ENGLAND.

Would Be Powerless to Attack Switzerland Were War Declared.

A British diplomatist has recently developed the remarkable fact that Great Britain would be powerless to attack Switzerland were war declared. Incredible as it may seem, she would be unable to take any ships against the little republic, and in case of a declaration of war nothing would result except an interruption of diplomatic and commercial relations between the two countries, for hostilities cannot take place except on the high seas or within the territories of the belligerents. Between England and Switzerland the former are out of the question, and the latter could not arise unless a passage was granted through a neutral state. During the eighteenth century it was an undisputed doctrine that a neutral state might allow the troops of one belligerent to pass through its territory without giving cause for complaint to the other, but recent authorities on international law are opposed to this, and modern practice supports them. No attempt has been made to exercise such supposed right of passage since 1815, when the allies crossed Switzerland to attack France. In 1870 Belgium, at the instance of Great Britain, refused a passage to the German wounded, and the Swiss not only declined to allow volunteers from Alsace to pass through their country, but interned a body of French troops who crossed their frontier. Such a war is also impossible on other grounds, for a declaration was signed at Paris, November 20, 1815, by the representatives of Great Britain, Austria, France, Prussia and Russia, whereby they formally recognized the perpetual neutrality of Switzerland and guaranteed the inviolability of its territory. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Good News Cheers the Sick.

Army doctors look out for good news even more eagerly than the general in command of the forces, for they know that it makes the difference between life and death to many of their patients. Nothing hinders the recovery of the wounded so much as depression of spirits and anxiety. And when they hear that things are going badly at the front, many of them who are on the turning-point grow worse and die. On the other hand, the news of a great victory will pull a man out of the jaws of death. There was a very noticeable when both British and French wounded were congregated at Antwerp during the Waterloo campaign. When news of Napoleon's complete defeat reached the hospital the French began to die at about twice the rate of the British troops.

The amateur detective is as humorous a character as any of Shakespeare's clowns, or even old Paddy. He finds the solution of the mystery as mortal men find the solution of the puzzle. He is a man who reads clues, as the Indian reads a trail. Every step he takes is a step to success.

It's much the same way in the detection of disease. While the amateur is blundering along over misleading symptoms, the specialist goes right to the real cause and puts an arresting hand upon the disease. It is in such a way that Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., succeeds in hunting out and arresting diseases, where the average practitioner fails. More than thirty years of special study and experience have enabled Dr. Pierce to read symptoms as easily and as surely as the Indian reads a trail which is without a hint for a less acute vision than his. Any sick person can consult Dr. R. V. Pierce by letter absolutely without charge. Each letter is read in private and answered in private. Its contents are held as strictly confidential. It is answered with fatherly feeling as well as medical skill and the reply is sent sealed in a perfectly plain envelope. There may be no third party to the correspondence. Thousands have taken the first step to health by writing to Dr. Pierce. No writer ever regretted writing. Ninety-eight in every hundred treated have been completely cured. If you are afflicted with any old obstinate ailment write to-day, you will be one day nearer health. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

advantage of the market at any time realize quickly on any surplus produce—permits them to trade to advantage in any direction not necessarily with Hopkinsville. The only drawback to the gentleman mentioned was that while he lived on a good road he had to pay a pretty stiff toll which might have been saved. Needless to say he is a strong advocate of free turnpikes.

With good free roads all over the county a farmers' chances for getting the highest price for his tobacco or wheat are increased several fold with toll gates or mud roads barring the way, few buyers come along but with good free roads they would be "thick as leaves in vallambrosia." The increased competition for a crop would mean hundreds of dollars every year to the farmer.

Slight Freight Wreck.

A slight freight wreck occurred in the L. & N. yards here, near the rock quarry Wednesday night. A north-bound freight in taking a siding headed into some flat cars loaded with rock. The pilot of the engine was crushed and two "dongolas" of the train were damaged. A wrecker from Howell, Ind., was sent here and cleared the wreck in a short while. No one was hurt and the damage to the company's property was slight.
